of this terrible day, making the work of removing the people from the sinking ship one of great difficulty, and it was only by the hardest kind of work that we were able to avoid accidents both to the people and the beats. The women and children were removed first, and after them the male passengers and crew. At 2 p.m. we finished the work of transferring passengers, having consumed nearly five hours, and getting everybody, with the exception of the officers, safely on the Missouri without a single accident of any kind. An hour later the barometer began failing, and I sent word to Capt. Knudsen and his officers to leave the ship and come ou board the Missouri, and, after getting some provisions from the Dannemark, which had now settled very perceptibly in the water, that vessel was finally abandoned. Capt. Knudsen was the of this terrible day, making the work of re TO LET-FURNISHED AND UNFUR-nished rooms. 517 SIXTR ST. 24

LAST TO LEAVE THE SHIP.
"I then counted heads and found we had In addition to our own crew of 45 men and four passengers, 669 cabin and steerage passengers and 60 of the officers and crew of the ill-fated steamer. Our last view of the Dannemark showed the vessel to be rapidly going down, her stern being aimost even with the sea and the water breaking over her. We threw overboard most of our cargo on the decks, consisting principally of bales of rags, in order to make room for accommodation for the large addition to our passenger list. On looking over our provisions we found after careful estimate of the number of mouths to feed that we only had enough food on board to last three days, and I determined to make all possible haste to reach the port of St. Michaels, which was 720 miles away.

ANOTHER PASSENGER ARRIVES.
"On April,7th at 1:20 a.m., about ten hours after the transfer was made, Mrs. Linnie aged 18 years, a Danish woman, who was on her way to America to meet her hus-band, gave birth to a girl in my cabra. The little stranger was christened Atlauta Mis-souri. The child was born during a howi-ing storm, which rocked the vessel and caused the sea to break over us. We had started for St. Michaels with all on board at 5 p.m. of the 6th.

THE VOYAGE TO ST. MICHAELS. "The voyage was very threatening at the time. The wind increased in violence as night wore on. Everything possible was done to make the passengers comfortable. Awnings and sails were brought out and used as a partial protection to the panistricken emigrants. The gale kept increasing in fury and there was a tremendous sea running, which was continually breaking over the vessel, and, taken altogether, things looked dublous. It must be remembered that we were very short of provisions, and this storm at the very outset of our journey toward St. Michaels made us fearful about reaching that port safely. By daylight of April Sti, however, the gale materially decreased and we were able to make fair progress and on April 10th we arrived at St. Alichaels. On April 11th we landed 370 of the passengers and crew of the Dannemark, including Capt. Knudson, at St. Michaels. "We sailed from St. Michaels with 365 people from the Dannemark, including eight of the crew of the vessel. We had fine weather all the way to Philadelphia and a remarkably small amount of sickness on board considering the crowded condition of our boats." "The voyage was very threatening at the time. THE LION OF THE DAY.

There was never a joliler tar aboard a ship than Capt. Hamilton Murrill of the Missouri appeared to be today. He was the lion of the day. Indeed through all the excitement and bother incident to so great responsibility as he has had upon his shoulders for the past led days, he was the same affable, big hearted mariner, who had a kind word for everybody and, whose modesty never for once forsook him. The steamer picked up on her way up the channel several tug leads of representatives of the Thingvalla line, of Peter Wright & Sons, the agents, and of leading newspapers # of the country. Everybody was hurrying to and fro getting what little of their possessions they had been able to save from the sinking steamer and all displayed upon their ruddy faces every sign of loy at reaching terra firma sound and weil. All of them had the same story to tell in reference to their treatment on either boat, Dannematk and Missouri, and all were unstituting in their praise of the valor and chivairy displayed, which to their minds made aplargely for the enforced delay in their yoyage.

which rolled from the news car in front to the rustlers' caboose behind. It marked the departure from a State government to-ward a country where the government is yet to be created and established. Still the Cherokee country lay between them and the rainbow land. Along the Pawnes trail the train also passed caravans of boomers' wagons, many going south, but some return-ling toward Kansas. Between Willow Springs and the Ponca agency somebody in the newspaper car discovered a man riding on the truck beneath the coach. When the train stopmed at Ponca the advantage. press association. tle, Wash, to get a footbold in Oklahoma. He was elected as representative of the London Times and also as the mascot of the new city of Guthrie.

At the last station outside of Oklahoms Territory there was a great growd of boomers who had forsken their teams, and who hoped to get in quicker by rail. There being no room inside, they climbed on top of the coaches, and the entire train, from one end to the other, was lined with them. In this way about five minutes after 19 o'clock. Before about five minutes after 12 o'clock. Before the late deadline was reached and passed, however, a great transformation scene had begun, and was plainly visible to the watchers from the train. First came in view the white-topped wagons, gathered together in groups on the level prairie, or in the little valleys which diversify the face of the country. It was all at once noticeable that the teams were not to be seen in any of these camps, and it was plain that they had been taken out of harness to be ridden across the border by hard riders, who were TO LOCATE CLAIMS.

these camps, and it was plain that they had been taken out of harness to be ridden across the border by hard riders, who were To Locate Claims.

A little further on and this conclusion proved to be the correct one, for the entire face of the country, as far as the best field glass could carry the sight, was overrun with horsemen galloping to the southward. The feetest horses had evidently been picked for the work, and they were carrying their riders rapidly to the longed-for goal. Rides of 15 or 20 miles were made in incredibly short time by old boomers familiar with the country, and who know where the desirable lands were located.

The day was cloudless, and far away in the horizon, both to the east and west clouds of dust could be seen ascending from the hoofs of HUNDMEDS OF HORSES rushing towards different destinations in most cases, but some of them toward the same. One race for the goal could be easily distinguished. The riders were apparently evenly mounted. They were neck and neck for a mile or two along the trail as tar as they could be seen, and their eager and intense looks and merciless slashing were sufficient evidence of the prize they were running after.

One saddled, but riderless, horse was seen galloping along the trail, an ominous sign of some accident or fatality which had befallen the rider. Some went in charge of horses and were evidently riding relays toward the goal. Out of the dust which arose toward the east could be seen, after the train had reached the summit of a high ridge, a wagon caravan fully two miles in the length and which was being spec to the utmost speed of its horses. These caravans were plainly outdistanced by the horseback riders.

The City Council met in regular ses sion at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. President Frankenfield and Councilmen Wirsching, Van Dusen, Brown, Hamilton, Shafer, McLain, Bonsall nd Summerland were present.

Mayor Hazard returned two claims rejected, which the Council had heretofore approved, and his objections were sustained. One was to reduce the price of a seal stamp and the other for a bill which had been duplicated.

The City Auditor reported $43,761 in the cash fund, $36,226 in the salary fund and $7744 in the fire department. Referred to Finance Committee.

pended, and the ordinance passed by a unanimous vote.

The ordinance establishing a free labor exchange was then read, the total expense of which shall not exceed $200 per month.

Mr. Summerland presented a petition, representing, he said, $20,000,000, asking for the establishment of the exchange, and moved that the rules be suspended. The motion was carried, when Mr. Summerlaud moved that the ordinance be put upon its passage. Some discussion followed, after which a vote was taken, and the ordinance was defeated by a vote of 4 to 5. The bond of City Treasurer M. D. Johnson was approved.

The Park Commissioners recommended the removal of express wagons from the vicinity of the Plaza, and on motion of Mr. Wirsching, they were ordered to be removed to Los Angeles street, between the Plaza and Arcadia street. The City Attorney was directed to draw an ordinance in accordance with the motion.

The Board of Education presented a request that it be allowed the use of the Council chamber on the evenings of the first and third Mondays of each month. Granted.

The Gas and Light Committee report fixing several new locations for electric lights, laid over from last week, was adopted.

Mr. Bonsall, in connection with the lighting of the city, thought the Council should investigate the manner in which the electric light company performs its contract. He thought there was leakage in the matter.

The special building committee presented the plans and specifications of the architect for the furnishing of the library in the new City Hall. The Council took a recess of five minutes, during which they were inspected by the members of the Council, Mr. Hanchette of the library directors explaining the plans to those who desired it. The plans are comprehensive, and provide for room for about 10,000 volumes and neat furniture. The plans and specifications were adopted by the Council, and the City Clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for one week to furnish the new City Hall with an elector, and to furnish the library rooms according to plans and specifications.

The Clerk announced that he had one bid for the city money, which was opened. It was from the Los Angeles Savings Bank, L. C. Goodwin, president, offering to take the city money and pay one-fourth of 1 per cent. per month. Referred to Finance Committee.

The recommendations of the Board of Public Works, as heretofore pub-lished, were adopted.
Ordinances from the City Engineer

Ordinances from the City Engineer to change the grades of portions of the following streets were read: Seventh, Ward, Daly, Hobart, State, Aliso, Alvarado, Hope, Bellevue avenue, Ninth, Walkins, Downey avenue, Eschandia, Swain, Council, Eighth, Pearl. The City Engineer explained the necessity for making the changes; stating that they were to make those portions of the streets to be changed to conform to the surrounding grades, and that there were only one or two to conform to the surrounding grades, and that there were only one or two places where there was any considerable change. Most of them were ordered by the former Council. The rules were suspended and the ordinances adopted.

A topographical map of West Lake park was presented by the city engineer, and it was made official.

A report that the majority of the property in the protests against grading of a portion of Twelfth street, between Main and Pearl, and Eighth street, is represented, was presented, and the Clerk instructed to notify the Street Superintendent to suspend further operations.

A map establishing the line of Pico street was presented by the City Engineer, and the matter was referred to the Board of Public Works.

The City Attorney reported an ordinance ordering the forfeiture of the Seventh-street branch electric railroad franchise and removal of the poles. No wires have ever been strung on the poles. The poles are on Seventh street, east of Wall street. The ordinance was read, and on motion of Mr. Bonsall, action was postponed for one week.

Afternoon Session The members were promptly on hand, and at 2 o'clock sharp President Frankenfield took the chair and called the meeting to order. The street naming ordinance had been made the special order for 2 o'clock, when Clerk Teed called a deputy to the chair and the reading of the lengthy document was proceeded with. The proposed changes have been already published two or three times, and are generally known. They are mainly changes where one street has two or more names for the purpose of securing uniformity, and they number 212. Forty minutes was consumed in the reading, after which the rules were suspended as to printing and the ordinance was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Bonsail moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to have the signs changed as soon as the ordinance was unanimously and the signs changed as soon as the ordinance was unanimously adopted. The street naming ordinance had

FAN-TAN PLAYERS.

RATHER AN EXCITING TIME

Tricks in All Trades-Fred Smith's Trouble-The End Not Yet.

Just where the complication over Constable Fred Smith's tan raid last week will end is decidedly problematical, owing to yesterday's develop-ments. Seven Chinamen, with C. C. Stephens, Esq., as counsel, appeared in Police Court in the afternoon. Three of them were charged with riot and four nwith vagrancy. It had been rumored around that their case had some connection with the raid upon the tan games last week, and the courtroom was soon crowded. A more or less pig-tailed mass was packed into the rear of the room, and watch-ed the proceedings with almond-eyed interest. It seemed like an ordinary Chinatown row before the attorneys were fairly warmed up to their work. It took only a very few attorneys were fairly warmed up to their work. It took only a very few moments to develop some exceedingly sensational features, and one of the queerest three-cornered situations that has been observed in Los Angeles courts of justice.

Deputy District Attorney Hardesty and Mr. Payton had a spirited conversation before the court was called to order, which was not loud enough to attract attention, but seemed to promise pretty well for future feelings of coldness between the two. As soon as Balliff Bechan rapped for order, Mr. Hardesty opened up as follows:

"May it please Your Honor, these men," pointing to the seven pig-tails, "are witnesses against the Chinese tan-players arrested last week in the raid by Constable Fred Smith. They were arrested by the police Saturday night. One of them, Wong Gok, has a price of $400 set on his head. Any one who kills him will get that amount. I think the Court has been imposed upon in this matter. These men helped the officers' identify the 50 or 60 Chinamen arrested in the raid. If they are to be prosecuted for being on the side of the law, this court has been foully imposed on. If any offense has been committed by the men, of course I want them punished, but I don't think they have."

This was a unique attitude for a prosecuting officer to take, and Mr. Stephen smiled a sweet smile of perfect content. as he heard his clients eulogized. Mr. Hardesty's motive was seen, however, as he turned with chilling hateur towards Mr. Payton, who sat looking calmly interested, and continued:

"I find on coming here that Mr. Pay-passage. Some discussion followed, after which a vote was taken, and the ordinance was defeated by a vote of 4 to 5.

The Davies street railroad franchise, which had been made the special coder for 3 o'clock, was then taken up, and the report of the special committee to investigate the same was read, showing that Davies was entitled to his franchise, and Mr. Bonsall moved that the ordinance be put on its passage. Mr. Knox then addressed the Council, by permission, outlining Mr. Davies's position, showing that he had first got permission to build his road, and only deferred as a matter of accommodation to the Vernon people, after which they tried to shut him out from the Southern Pacific depot on Fifth street. Judge Hatch then made a statement on behalf of the Vernon-street Railroad Company. Mr. Bonsall stated that the special committee had spent some three days on this matter, and had given it due consideration, after which a vote was taken on the franchise, and it was granted by a unanimous vote. Mr. Davies also thanked the Council for their kindness, and said that now that the matter was settled he would withdraw the suit against the Vernon company and do what he could for the public beneft.

An ordinance of intention for the grading and paving of Arcadia street was passed by a vote of 8 to 1 (Mr. Hamilton), that gentleman saying he was opposed to porphyry for paving main streets. Another ordinance of the same kind, for paving Fort street from Fifth to Sixth, was also passed.

Mr. McLain explained his vote, saying he was opposed to porphyry for paving he was opposed to having measures railroaded through the Council.

Walter S. Moore ad iressed the Council, calling attention to the fact that the 30th of the month is the centennial of Washington's inauguration, and asking that they appropriate $150 for the purpose of celebrating the same. Mr. Brown moved that the City Attorney be instructed to draw an ordinance appropriating $150 for this purpose. Mr. Bonsall objected, saying he did not see the necessity for ex who sat looking caimly interested, and continued:

"I find on coming here that Mr. Payton asks to be associated with me in the prosecution of these men. Mr. Payton is the attorney for the 50 or 60 tanplayers arrested in the raid, and here he comes wanting to help prosecute the witnesses who helped the officers arrest his clients. Of course if the men are guilty they should be punished. The complaint charges them with inciting to riot; there is no such offense."

Judge Stanton: But there is an offense of riot. This court will do its duty without fear or favor.

Mr. Payton gained the ear of the Court, and genially assented to the charge that he had been engaged by Ah Sing, the complaining witness, to assist in the prosecution. "But so far as this Court's having been imposed on. I think that is a mistake. I don't come here to make any statement validicating as this Court's having been imposed on, I think that is a mistake. I don't come here to make any statement vindicating the 81 Chinamen who are my cleats. I am defending them. But I know the charge against the seven Chinamen here is true. I know that there is an unlawful organization, the head of which is this same Wong Gok, sitting over there, and that they expect to extort money from the Chinamen. Their play is to get all the Chinese tan games under one control, and they have assisted the officers to arrest the 81 Chinamen as a part of their plan."

Mr. Hardesty briskly arose to his feet and asked Mr. Payton if he meant to insinuate that the District Attorney's office was standing in with any such scheme, and upon the assurance that such was not the intention sat down again. Mr. Payton continued and claimed that he could prove his case, remarking incidentally that if he and Mr. Hardesty did not get.

the franchise. Mr. McLain moved that it be given six months instead of nine, which motion was carried, after which an ordinance to that effect was passed unanimously. The ordinance appropriating $150 for the Washington centennial cele-bration was read, when the rules were suspended, and the ordinance passed. passed.

The usual bundle of petitions were read and referred to the appropriate committees. Among them was one protesting against the nightly parade of the Salvation Army as a nuisance.

This was referred to the Board of case, remarking incidentally that if he and Mr. Hardesty did not get along very well, he would try to hold his end straight anyway.

Attorney Stephens, counsel for the This was reterred to the board of Police Commissioners. A peculiarly pathetic petition, setting forth the cruel treatment of a small yellow dog at the hands of the dogcatcher, was referred to Mr. Van. Duzen and

Mr. Shafer stated that Justice Stanton had stated that he would have to hold court this morning, and asked the use of the Council chamber. The request was denied.

alleged rioters, now chipped in and said that he and Wong Gok and the District Attorney's office had been engaged for over a week in breaking up the tan games. He charged that every possible obstacle had been thrown in their way. Becoming very much in earnest Mr. Stephens exclaimed very loudly and forefoly:

"We succeeded, and by the assistance of the men sitting here identified and arrested the gamblers. The games were shut up. On Saturday night late our witnesses were arrested on a warrant sworn out from the court at the instigation of the police and complaint of Ah Sing. Where is Ah Sing? I don't believe he exists. He may have a substitute, but why isn't he here in court. The men were arrested and the games ran Saturday and Sunday nights. And, if these men are kept in jail, so they cannot assist the officers in identification, the games will continue to run. There is an arrangement by which the pelice are to raid the games so many times a month, and there is $960 a month distributed around where it will do the most good, after a certain amount is paid for fines. We will show your honor that this is a direct attempt to throw obstacles in the way of justice.

By this time it was hard to tell who was prosecuting and who was not. Mr. Payton said he was not aware of any boodle being used. Mr. Stephens laughed scornfully, and Mr. Hardesty said that the District Attorney's office intended to stop not only the Chinese gamblers, but the white gamblers as well, if the Board of Supervisors kept its word—that Mr. Kelly's only desire was to try to enforce the law.

Mr. Payton, assisting the prosecution, now asked for a continuance to procure witnesses. The Prosecuting Attorney would not consent to a continuance unless the men were allowed to goon their own—recognizance. Mr. Stephens watched the fight. The Court having decided that it had jurisdiction in the case, a long argument ensued about the continuance, and the atterneys had a running cross-fire of questions and answers. In the course of the argument Mr. Stephens al of money in the city but it is being used with a freedom which indicates plainer than words that those who know what they are about have not lost confidence. Dobinson & Fairchild, the contractors, finished paving Fort street, between Temple and Sixth streets, a month ago. Their assessment roll for $52,000, which by the by is the biggest ever turned out of the Street Superintendent's office, was placed in the hands of their collector four weeks ago and up to last night $44,000 had been collected, which shows plainer than day that people, and especially property-holders, are not hard up for money. With the exception of one or two blocks the street is a residence street. It is safe to say that there are but few cities in the United States that can make a better showing, for debts of that kind are very hard to collect. The Orange Grove Tract Water Company filed articles of incorpora-Company filed articles of incorpora-tion yesterday. The purpose of the company is to furnish water to the stockholders of the J. E. Packard Orange Grove tract, and to adjacent lands. Pomona is the principal place of business of the company and the directors are: C. E. White, George E. Rose, W. H. Sanders, O. F. Griffin, C. I. Lorber, all of Pomona. The cap-ital stock is $240,000, of which $64,000 has been subscribed.

PITIABLE CASES

ATHER AN EXCITING TIME
IN COURT.

There are two cases in Chinatown that, from a humanitarian standpoint, should be looked into, although what final disposition can be made of them is likely to prove a puzzle. One of these is a man afflicted with leprosy, who has been isolated by his country. who has been isolated by his country men and placed in a small tent back of new Chinatown. The man has no attendance, his food being placed in-

of new Chinatown. The man has no attendance, his food being placed inside the tent, and if he is strong enough to reach it, he eats; otherwise, he goes hungry. Last night when the TIMES reporter called at the tent it was tied up for the night, but the man was awake, and by the light of a candle he was seen to be in a horrible state. He is not yet in the last stages of the disease, and may linger some months. He is, however, perfectly helpless, and does not receive as much attention as a dog.

The other unfortunate is are old gray-headed Chinaman, who is as crazy as a bedbug. He is said to be very violent at times, but last night he was quiet, and when wakened paid but very little attention to the visitors. The old man is the sole inmate of the Chinese Hospital, back of the theater, all of the others having died. The place is filthy in the extreme, and the only wonder is that a human being could live in the place at all. The place has been brought to the attention of the Health Officer several times, and it has been ordered removed more than once, but so far mothing has been done. It is said by the Chinese that when a man gets sick the devil wants him, and while they do not kill him outright, which would be an act of mercy, he is stuck into the so-called hospital, without attention, and left to himself. If he has a strong constitution, and gets well, it is all right; if he dies, which he generally does, "allee samee, no diffience."

MUSICALE

Given in Honor of Mrs. Mamie

Perry-Davis.
Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hubbell gave a musicale at their home, "Mt. Pleas-ant," Boyle Heights, last evening in ant," Boyle Heights, last evening in honor of Mrs. Mamie Perry-Davis, who expects to leave in a few days for a tour of the East and a sojourn in Italy. The grounds of the villa were made doubly attractive by Japanese lanterns which hung from the trees and shrubs and depended from bumboo archee over the main walk. The parlors were appropriately decked with flowers and were filled with a company of congenial people.

The following programme was renedered:

Soprano solo, "Di Pracer," (Gazza Ladra)—Mrs. M. Perry-Davis.
Piano solo—Miss Cobb.
Baritone solo, "Twas Not a Dream"—Prof. Bornemann.
Violin solo, symphonie (Schumann)—Miss Fletcher.
Tenor solo, "That Sad Refrain,"—Sig Medini.
Trio, "Rest Thee on this Mossy Piliow," (Smart)—Ars. Perry-Davis, Miss Leckhart and Miss Perry.
Solo, "The Maid of Dundee"—Mrs. Perry-Davis.
Duetto, Contessa d'Amain Petrella—Mrs. Perry-Davis and Sig. Modini.
After the conclusion of the musical programme there were refreshments, and the remainder of the evening was convivially passed. GERONIMO'S SPUR.

An Old Relic Captured by Sheriff

Aguirre.

Sheriff Aguirre, who has just returned from a trip to Mexico, brought with him a relic which he prizes very highly. It is an old silver-mounted that has been in the Geronimo spur that has been in the Geronimo family over 200 years, it is said. The spur is of the old Mexican make, and shows that it has seen a great deal of service. The big chief wore it on all of his expeditions, and there is no telling how many times it has spurred his wild mustang on to battle. It is said that Geronimo would no more think of going into battle without his spur than he would venture in front of an enemy without his firearms.

GEN. VANDEVER.

GEN. VANDEVER.

He Passes Through Los Angeles.
Yesterday Afternoon.
Yesterday afternoon.
Yesterday afternoon at 3:25, Congressman Vandever came in on the Santa Barbara train from his home in Ventura. The General was met at the depot by a number of friends, among whom were Public Administrator Field, Rev. U. S. G. Glick and George E. Plase. The party got into the depot by a number of friends, among whom were Public Administrator Field, Rev. U. S. G. Glick and George E. Plase. The party got into hacks and were driven to the Santa Fédepot, and Gen. Vandever left immediately for San Diego. He will remain there until Thursday, when he will return to this city, and will be at the Nadeau a few days. The General is in fine health and is well satisfied to be at home once more.

Mrs. Toal Improving.
Mrs. Frank Toal, who was so brutally assaulted by her busband Saturday afternoon, was so much improved yes home, but it was thought best to detain her a day or two longer, so that her wounds could be properly dressed.

Toal, who is also in the jail, appears to take a great interest in her, and asks the jailer about her every time he passes his cell. Yesterday afternoon he was very anxious to know if she was suffering any pain, and begged to be allowed to talk to her. He said that he knew that he would be sent to State's Prison, and thought it a great hardship to be separated from her. The officers, however, think it best that they should be separated from her. The officers, however, think it best that they should be separated from her. It has they should be separated from her. The officers, however, think it best that they should be separated, for so great is his influence over her that it is believed if he could get half an hour's conversation with her the woman would forgive him, and, in all likelihood, refuse to prosecute him. Readers of The Times will remember the the young woman who came up here from San Diego about three weeks ago. She was in a fair way to go to the bad, and old friends of her, and as she is only about 17 years of age, they hope to reform her. J. A. Russ, an old friend of James McCord, induced the girl to go to his house in East Los Angeles, where he placed her under the care of Mrs. Russ. The girl seemed to be perfectly satisfied in her new home, and no one dreamed for a moment that she was contemplating an elopemont. A.O.H. Ball.

The fifth grand annual ball given by the A.O.H. at Armory Hall last night was largely attended, and a good time was enjoyed. The officers were: President, Edward Tynan; vice-president, C. Hickson; financial secretary, W. J. Flatley: recording secretary, P. J. Stack; treasurer, M. Hopkins; company delegate, John Moriarty.

The committees of last night's affair were as follows:

Arrangements.—W. J. Flatley, M. Hopkins, P. M. Parrell, D. J. McCarty and C. Hickson.

Reception.—John Moriarty, John L. McCoy, Terrence Cooney, John P. Moran, P. J. Stack, John McMoroney, William Barry, John Herlihy, E. Roach, Hugh Sweeney, H. Smith and John McManus.

CHANGES IN THE MANAGE-MENT OF THE SANTA FE.

The Santa Fe Preparing for a Boom -Its Proposed Park-Excursions in the Northern Part of the State -The Raymond Excursion.

Yesterday was the warmest day of the season along the line of the roads on the desert, it being 107° in the shade at Volcano Springs at noon. It is seldom that hot weather starts in so early in the season, and the rail-road men are of the opinion that the eason will be hotter than it has been for some years past.

If the Santa Fé people do not succeed in selling off their lots around the new depot at the foot of First street this summer, they will lay out a park this summer, they will lay out a park and make it the most beautiful in the city. The company has great confidence in Los Angeles, and will not fall behind any of the public-spirited citizens when it comes to advancing the interests of the metropolis of Southern California.

S. B. Hynes, successor of Maj. Wilkins in the management of the freight and passenger business of the Sants Fé's interests on this coast, left for San Francisco on the 1 o'clock train yesterday. In the forenoon Mr. Hynes spent several hours in his office in the Phillips block, and expressed himself as well pleased with the condition of affairs about the office. In answer to a question he said:

house in East Los Angeles, where he placed her under the care of Mrs. Russ. The girl seemed to be perfectly satisfied in her new home, and no one dreamed for a moment that she was contemplating an elopement. But she evidently had something of the kind in her head, for on last Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock she left the house, telling Mrs. Russ that she wished to come over to town. She has not been seen since, although a thorough search has been made in the city. She had no money when she left, and it is hard to tell what has become of her.

Crazy Japanese Woman.
The Japanese woman whose disappearance from a house of prostitution on Sepulveda street caused such a sensation Sunday night, was found by Officer Mendibles, about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, on Alameda street, near Collins's stable. The woman had on nothing but her night clothes, and was walking about with a large stick. She said that she was very sick, and that the edicine that had been given her had caused her to run away. She was turned over to Officer McGrun, who took her home, since which time nothing has been heard of her.

FLOWER FESTIVAL.

EXHIBIT REJUVENATED AND IMPROVED.

leaux Last Evening—Real Water in Little Santa Anita Cañon— Many Changes in the Outside

The workers at the Flower Festival were out in force yesterday, and created quite a transformation scene in the Pavilion. The flowers that gave their short-lived beauty to last week's display were almost entirely renewed during the day. The booths were dec-orated in other colors and designs, and liant. The large quantity of flowers sent in was gratifying to the managers, and made the beautifying of the hall a much easier task.

The Sierra Madre Mountain added another to its already many attractions in a real stream of water flowing down its moss and vine clad sides into 1995. Santa Anita Caffon.

The Duarte wind-mill display was renewed, and numbered among its pretty decorations a Chinese poppy, a spray of crimson arbutalon, green day night, denies that he was attemptroses and a curious branch of cork elm.

Whittier's booth was fully equipped early in the afternoon, but the Quaker bonnet had changed from graver colors to delicate pinks within, and varied pink, white and buff without, while the broad brimmed hat was decked with varied green tints instead of the "wee, modest, crimson-tipped" daisy. The ladies of the pink and pansy booth were presented yesterday with a beautiful crescent of shaded pinks and a star of pansies by Mrs. Kneip and Mr. Steward, and their display was a beautiful one. They also received a display of delicate ferns gathered by the young employes of The Grange; and an artistic collection of maiden hair ferns sent by Mrs. Gene Hadley of Lincoln Park.

Mrs. Threikeld and Mrs. Littleboy of Boyle Heights and Frank Phillips sent beautiful collections of flowers to the candy booth.

The rose banks were the recipients of many choice contributions, making them more attractive than ever. Among the beautiful roses sent in were special exhibits by Miss Daisy Fox, Mrs. Batcheller, of Fruitland; Mrs. Austin, of Santa Monica; Mrs. F. Q. Storey, of Albambrai Mrs. Kate Spear, Mrs. Gibbs, of Vernon; Mr. Atwood, of Boyle Heights; Mrs. Heaver, of Boyle Heights; Mrs. W. J. Brown, Mrs. C. Johnson, of Garvanza; Mrs. Strauss, Mrs. Dr. Murphy, of Boyle Heights; Mrs. D. C. Hough, Mr. Becket, of Ramchito, who sent the only magnolia se far at the festival. was very large, the receipts being over $500. The tableaux were exceptionally fine, and were superb in spectacular effect. The conception of the tableaux and the artistic manner in which they were carried out won for those who managed them and participated in them the distinction of having contributed one of the most enjoyable features of the entire Flower Festival.

weighs about 185 pounds. He has broad shoulders and is a very pewerful man. He is about 33 years of age. He has blue eyes, with a light complexion and a small, light mustache. He has a very coarse voice. He wore when last seen a narrow-brimmed black hat, and wore a No. 9 shoe.

The second man is John Maxwell, 5 feet 6 inches in height, with dark eyes, dark complexion, and sharp features. He wore only a dark mustache. He has dark eyes, and is about 40 years of age. He wore a plaid sack coat when last seen, and a black slouch hat.

A further investigation of the case will be made and if there are any facts that will relieve Sexton and his family they will be published. In any event the truth, as nearly as it can be ascertained, will be given.

The Washington Centennial. Yesterday, at noon, the Executive mmittee of the Historical Society of Southern California, under whose auspices the centennial of Washington's inauguration is to be celebrated in this city, met in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. There was not a full committee present, and only a partial report was made.

The sub-committee appoluted announced that it had succeeded in securing the services of Hon. W. A. Cheney, Judge of the Superior Court, to deliver the oration of the day, and that Miss Jennie Winston of Pasadena had also kindly volunteered to be present and sing "The Star Spangled Banner." A discussion then followed as to what building should be used in which to hold the exercises, and it is probable that the First Presbyterian Church will be decided upon, although this is not definitely determined upon. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Harriet Goes North.

In Judge Cheney's court yesterday Harriet Smith was sent to San Quentin for one year. She was convicted last week of stealing a ball dress and other articles from a Mrs. Fish at a ledging house on First street. Ah Ling was sentenced to one year at San Quentin for stealing a watch from the watch-man at Lankershim's mill.

FRESH LITERATURE.

In most lives, however commonplace page of romance. And there are other disappointed hopes.

The story of "The Englishman of the Rue Cain" is a picture of life as it is met with in great cities. It very ingeniously portrays the wonderful skill of the French detective in unraveling the mysteries of crime, in tracing out, from the faintest clews the evidence which leads to the detection of the criminal. Step by step the reader follows the author into the haunts of thieves, and into the byways where the assassin treads. There are scenes from which we shrink, dark streets whose atmosphere is heavy with crime, where "tepid and motionless, the atmosphere still dogged the steps of him who sought to escape it."

But there are lights as well as shadows in this little volume, and in its pages the old, old story is told, which will be always fresh and new while the world stands, and "eyes look love to eyes which speak again." The book is one of the Globe Library series, and its vivid portrayal of certain phases of Paris life will attract the reader not less than the romance interwoven with its principal characters.

THE LADIES GALLERY. By JUSTIN MCOARCHY. M.P. and MRS. CAMPSELL PRAED. Chicago and New York. Rand, MoNally & Co. publishers. (For sale at the People's store).

Perhaps the greatest charm of this story is the intense realism that pervades it. So vividly are the characters and experiences of its heroes said thereine depicted, the reader almost feels as if their lives had been lived out under his eye, and his sympathy and admiration is enlisted as if they had been real men and women with whom he had been real men and women with whom he had been brought into intimate relationship. It is the story of two men, meeting in the wilds of Australia; the one young, earnest and full of ambitious hopes, the other 10 years his senior, whom he finds perishing with thirst, not far from his lonely samp in the Australian wilderness. He rescues him, and this man whom he has saved tells him the story of his life—he has been a gambler, a drunkard and a thief, and bad but recently made his escape from pr covered in the heart of a mountain range, and two years they toll together, until they have accumulated wast wealth, and then the younger man sets out in advance of his partner for Eng-land. The elder man has retrieved his past. His reformation is complete; his charities noble. He drops his own name, and is known only by an assumed name and is known only by an assumed one to his companion, who visits America before proceeding to England, and in his journeying he is thrown into the company of a young English gentleman and his sister, who were also on their way to England from Australia. The sequel can be quessed. This young and beautiful woman proves to be the wife of his "pal," but they have learned to love each other before the secret is discovered. Then comes the noble remuciation, the going back of the young wife to her reformed husband, whom she wishes to make happy. It is throughout a story in which the best sentiments of humanity, trust, sincerity and unselfish devotion are brought to the surface, and acted upon. brought to the surface, and acted upon. It is the friendship of David and Jonathan reembodied and set to different

The reader will find in this volume very much of genuine merit. The character of the Doctor is very similar to that of the famous Daniel Rochat—the hero of that grand play by that name. From the pen of Victorien name, from the pen of Victorien Sardou. It is a character to be studied closely, and to be carefully analyzed. The story is full of interest. The Doctor has three friends to whom he to discern the feebleness of his atheistic philosophy. "He felt an unknown enthusiasm overflow within him. All his former convictions, he condemned as false. The certainty of a superior being the principle of all greatness, all pity and of all love now appeared clear to him. With a cry of ineffable happiness he confessed his blindness and opened his eyes to the new light."

With all this story of unbelief and of change is interwoven the most charming and tender romance, which lends to the book a rare charm.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE. By A. P. RICHARD, M. Al. PROF. DAVID SWING AND OTHERS. Band McNally & Co. (For sale at the People's Store.)

This valume is an inquiry into the moral, the practical, the political and the religious aspects of the question, and it treats of it in a broad, comprehensive and convincing way and the object of the work is to support the conservative feeling that the institution of Marriage should be held sacred, and that no such loosening of the band should be permitted by the state as would make it practically dependent upon the mere caprice or passion of the parties themselves. Magazines. Dress for March and April is more than ever suggestive of the growing need of reform in the direction of feminine apparel. It opens with an interesting article on "Physical Culture," need or reform in the direction of feminine apparel. It opens with an interesting article on "Physical Culture," from the pen of Annie Jenness-Miller, which is followed by a valuable contribution from the pen of James A. King, on "Woman and Her Clothes." Kattie Reynolds Taylor talks of "Poor Baby," showing the many needless ills to which he is subjected. Men's dress is also discussed, and also "What Economy Means." Bonnets, gowns, cloaks and various suits are written of and illustrated, and, altogether, the number forms a very intelligent manual of dress and kindred subjects. The Jenness-Miller Publishing Company, West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, New York.

Peterson for May is full of interest. The steel engraving, "Green Leaf and Sere," is the lovellest possible picture of youth and age, and the fashion-plates and engravings are all excellent. Mrs. Hooper's serial, "Beyond These Volces," is concluded; that favorite author has never written a stronger and more dramatic novelette. "A Modern Petruchio" increases in interest with each issue, and the short stories and poems are exceptionally good. There is a capitally-written article on "Rose Culture," which will prove most useful as well as interesting to all lovers of gardening. "Home Millinery" is a paper on the art of amateur bonnet-making, which ought to be read by every lady of moderate means. Peterson's Magazine, 506 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Kindergarten is an invaluable magazine for the field which it occupies, and is calculated to enlist the interest of all-the friends of education in this particular department. The April number is particularly interesting, and its frontispiece, "An Eastern Chorus," is a little gem. Every number contains typical lessons and stories adapted to home and school. Kindergarten methods for primary teachers, and also nursery occupations are important features. Chicago: Alice B. Stockham & Co., publishers.

A SERIOUS BLUNDER.

A lady well-known in the Western Additio has been a great sufferer for years with indiges tion and dyspepsia. Struck with the testimonials praising Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, sh nials praising Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilia, she sent for a bottle. The drugglat, not having it, talked them into taking another sarsaparilia. As the leading sarsaparilias use mineral blood purifiers, the effect of the emptying of iodide of potash into a stomach already distressingly delicate was disastrous, almost prostrating her before the mistake was rectified. She then called upon Mrs. Fowler, of 327 Ellis street, whose name was among those cured by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilia. Mrs. Fowler said it was true that it had cured her. Again reassured, the vegetable compound was sent for and gotten. The gentle action of its vegetable stimulants upon the liver, kidneys and digestive organs, and its warm stomach tonics, were the very things needed, and she began improving and was her old self within a fortnight. SAN FRANCISCO has 4500 saloons. A little high license would not be amiss in that city.

WHEN the disgusted Oklahoma boomers take time to think a moment they will find that the most valuable lands, upon which can be grown all the cereals of the Western States, and all the fruits that grow in the United States can be had in Southern California at very reasonable prices.

THE frequent exhortations on the part of the press of Southern Califordirected to the development of the poultry industry, are be-ginning to have some effect. Two poultry journals are to be started in this city within a few weeks. The poultry will doubtless soon follow.

A UNITED STATES court has de cided that newspapers placed upon the top of a letter-box are not mailed. That being the case, the Postoffice Department ought to provide boxes large enough for newspapers. Fancy having to walk up to the suburban location of the Los Angeles postoffice every time one has a paper to mail!

A DISPATCH from Washington says it is quite probable that during June the Presidential family will occupy the house at the Soldiers' Home Park there, known as the Lincoln Park Cottage. It was often occupied by Lincoln during the war. Mr. Harrison ought to try and pass a few weeks at the Los Angeles Soldiers' Home. It would brace him up and give him energy to resist the assaults of persistent e-seekers.

Los Angeles is by no means the only city in the United States that has complaining of dullness during the past year or so. The St. Paul Pioneer Press says:

St. Paul and Minneapolis, though pre-centing aspects of much activity, are pass-ing through a period of business depression, as compared with the lively times of two

The settling up of this virgin territory in a day is something unprecedented, even in the Great West of the United States, which has witnessed so many remarkable rushes of population to centers of attraction. So far as heard from, the first day of the Oklahoma boom has passed off far more peaceably than was expected.

BITION.

Miss Kate Field, who is waging an pratorical campaign in the East on behalf of temperance, as opposed to prohibition, delivered a lecture in Boston a week ago entitled "The In-temperance of Prohibition," which aroused much interest at the Hub, and gave rise to a great amount of criticism, favorable and otherwise.

Miss Field narrated several in stances of her experience with prohition, notably in Iowa, in 1886, where she claims that the sentiment of the best citizens was to the effect that the prohibitory law was despotic, without being efficacious. Beer was sold, not only to adults, but to children, the difference being that the quality was infinitely worse than previously. She latest "craze" in the theatrical world gave infinitely worse than previously. She herself had bought a pint of highpriced "French brandy" at a leading drug store; which, upon analysis, proved to be so had as to be actually poisonous. Miss Field objects to prohibition on the ground that it is impossible, and "adds hypocrisy to vice." Here is an example of her arguments:

"Paul, the enthusiast, said, 'If eating meat causes my brother to offend, I will eat no more meat while the warid standeth.' He limited his prohibition to himself. The modern reformer carries on a different kind of warfare. He exclaims, 'I eat no meat, I am virtuous, and I solemnly swear that I will compel my brother to eat none, even though I poison the calf ere it becomes beef.'"

The lecturess claimed that no individual, or sect, or nation was ever legislated into morality. Prohibition was not effectual among the Romans or among the followers of Mahomet while the general use of opium among the Mahometans dates from the issuance of the mandate by the prophet. Miss Field asserted that the use of opium is growing most rapidly in the prohibition States. As to the working of prohibition in Maine, she gave figures to show that, in 1886, 1761 persons were committed to jail for drunkenness, and 188 sentenced for selling liquor. Here is a reference to high license as compared with prohibition:

license as compared with prohibition:
Prohibition, said Abraham Lincoln, is a species of 'intemperance in itself. It attempts to control a man's appetite. It makes crimes out of things that are not crimes. I have always felt myself bound to protect the weaker classes from the stronger. Prohibition has done nothing for temperance. High license has done and is doing much good. It does not say unto people, 'thou shalt not;' it says the interests of the State demand that saloons shall be licensed as are hotels and places of amusement. As the possibilities of evil are great in saloon traffic, the license shall be in proportion. Those dives where crime is generated can be thus rerdily be broken up, and the character of saloon-keepers improved. A man who pays a yearly license of $1000 becomes the best of policemen. as up, and the character of saloon-keepers im-proved. A man who pays a yearly license of $1000 becomes the best of policemen, as it is to his interest to report illicit liquor selling. The number of saloons is reduced, and the revenue accrued beautifies and en-lightens the town.

The lecturess quoted a letter from an official in Minnesota, to the effect that under high license the number of saloons had been reduced one-third, and the laws regulating liquor selling were better enforced than ever before, while in the city from which the letter was dated the increase of crime, notwithstanding the rapid growth of population, had been materially less during the year that high license had prevailed. She thought—and in this we believe she is very correct—that the abolition of the idiotic system of treating would do most towards stop-ping drunkenness. There is no doubt that this peculiar American habit, which must have been introduced for the benefit of liquor sellers, is one of the main causes of intemperance in this country. Under this system men will continually take more than they need or care for, under the influence of a suppositious social necessity. The tendency at present, among reasonable men, is in favor of high license rather than prohibition. The advocates of the latter system have done much to disgust the public by their arrogance, and their introduc-tion of politics into what should be purely a social reform. High license has answered well wherever it has been fairly tried, and it is rapidly being extended throughout the country.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONFER-ENCE.

The International Conference of American States, to which we have several times referred of late, is to meet in Washington on October 2, 1889. Congress appropriated $75,000 for the expenses of the conference. The object can best be understood by reference to the eight points which are found a graphic description of the The object can best be understood by to be submitted for the consideration great rush which ensued. One of the subjects which it is said will be brought prominently before the conference will be the question of sub-sidy. Everybody has read Mrs. Burnett's story.

Everybody has read Mrs. Burnett's story, but no cue believed when it was announced that she haddramatized it that the play would be a success, and several managers refused to touch it, but Henry T. French saw merit in the play, and now there are four companies playing to big business in the United States, and the manager's fortune is gamde. The story in brief is this: The youngest son of the Earl of Barlneourt come to America, and, against the wishes of his father, he marries a lady's companion. A baby boy is born to them, when the father dies, and the wife and child are left almost destinute. When the boy, who is an exceptionally bright child, reaches the age of seven years, a lawyer calls on the young widow, and informs her that her late husband's brothers have died and that her son is heir to the earldom, and that his grandfather, the "Earl of Darincourt" has sent for his grandson. By this move the little American becomes the "Little Lord Fanntleroy." He is a true American, and so old-fashioned in his ways that he creates a sensation wherever he goes. His quaint little ways make him friends wherever he goes, and when he is presented to the crabbed old Earl, he is so frank and maniy in his ways that the old man's heart is won, and a general revolution on the great estates sets in. The temants who have been subjected to all kinds of bad treatment are made happy. Just at the time when the little Lord has succeeded in winning his grandfather's affections, a woman who claims to be the wife of the Earl's oldest son puts in an appearance with a son, whom she claims to be the wife of the Earl's oldest son puts in an appearance with a son, whom she claims to be the wife of the Earl's oldest son puts in an appearance with a son, whom she claims to be the wife of the Earl's oldest son puts in an appearance with a son, whom she claims to be the wife of the Garl's pleased, when one of the little Lord's friends discovers the frand, and the conspirators are exposed. The old Earl is so highly pleased

The play is not one that will live very long. While the sentiments are good, it is not deep enough to make a lasting impression, and the chances are that it will not sion, and the chances are that it will not have a long run.

The company is a good one, the title-rôle being played alternately by Walile Eddinger and flossie Ethyl. Walile appeared last night, and Flossie will make her appearance this evening. The principal characters are taken by such people as Frank E. Ajken, Matt Snyder, Miss Isabella Everson and Miss Emily Lytton. The rest of the cast is made up of well-known people. Little Lord Fauntleroy will be repeated this evening, and for the remainder of the week, including Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Los ANGELES THEATER.—The Reilly Woods combination drew another good house last night. Popular prices and a good specialty company will always draw in this city. The afterpiece is one of the funniest ever seen on any stage. The bill will be repeated tonight.

THE OWL CLUB.-Last night the Ow Club rehearsed Everybody's Friend. The rehearsals are becoming almost perfect, and the success of the performances is insured. The club is one of the oldest dramatic organizations in the State, and has always given enjoyable entertainments.

as sufficient to confirm his title, he seized a Winchester rifie as the train went by, and fired out all its contents, and then empitied his revolver, yelling like a cowboy or Comanche Indian all the time. Not only the yells, but the shots, were responded to from the train, and a volley went up into the air from the entire length of the section, which proved conclusively, how well the party was armed in expectancy of what might happen.

A few miles on the other side of the line the train stopped at a military post, where the white tents of the soldiers and officers' tents surrounded by the national colors, were a gratifying evidence of power sufficient to maintain order. Troop D, Fifth Regiment of Cavalry of the United States Army, was quartered there, and the officers said that at the Army, was quartered there, and the officers said that at the SOUND OF THE BUGLE at high noon there had been a movement among the boomers camped along the border which had extended across the entire frontier, and that the riding had been fast and furious ever since, some of the prospectors running to Guthrie to file their entries; others going to locate on land and secure prior right to possession by actual occupancy. The scene was one of the most stirring and picturesque ever witnessed. The smoke of myriad campires lighted to cook THE FIRST MEAL IN OKLAHOMA began to ascend in all directions, and be-fore the first train of land speculators rushed to the future great city of Guthrie, the farmers had already become possessors of a great deal of land, and more than one furrow of virgin soll was turned over to the sun which has made the day glorious as sun which has made the day glorious as well as memorable.

It was twenty minutes after 13 o'clock when the first section of the great Atchison train reached the line, and its progress from that point on to Guthrie was not rapid enough for the rapid men who wanted to get there in a hurry, before all the cream was skimmed off the milk. Nevertheless, it lacked but a few minutes of 1 o'clock when the train stopped in front of the Guthrie depot. Before the train came to a stop, it was seen that somebody was already there; in fact, the town was well populated.

BEATEN AT THEIR OWN GAME.

BEATEN AT THEIR OWN GAME.

Tents were numerous on the eastern slope, and stakes were sticking up out of the ground like poles in a bean patch. Men could be seen racing in the direction of valuable holdings and the scene was as busy and animated as it is possible to imacing. Profanity among the Arkansas City and Wichita people, as well as those from other points, was profuse. That of the Kansas City speculators was both loud and deep. If there had been a prospect of shooting at any time today it was when these men found themselves builded at the game of freeze-out, but they were compelled to swallow their wrath, for according to all technicalities in law the men in possession were the rightful owners and the men who had been left out were the ones who had been most persistent in their demand for the law's enforcement. There was nothing to do but to take what was fest and it was in the scramble to get this that the most ludicrous scene of the day was presented.

GOBBLING UP THE LEAVINGS.

Falling over each other in their efforts to get out of the cars, every variety of man along the frontier made an army which charged the Land Office at he top of the knoll, not in a body but in detachments. The land office was not the point of their destination though it stands at the corner of a section, and is therefore the present center of the town. But it was to secure lots nearest to it that the rush was made. There was little left near. Stakes had already been driven almost to the limit of the half section of 320 acres allowed for a town site, as the law now stands. There was a small margin and this was being rapidly wiped out by the same men who had already appropriated nearly everything in sight. It was but a few minutes before the line was reached and the back action movement of taking up lots which, nobody had wanted before began.

When the second and third sections of the train arrived and found everything cornered.

THE AIR WAS BLUE for miles around the metropolis. There was nothing to do, however, as every lot was protected by rifles and revolvers, and was protected by rifles and revolvers, and if shooting began there was no telling where it would stop. The only recourse left to the disappointed men was to buy out such holders of lots as were willing to sell, or to run the risk of taking them outside the legal limit. Both courses were adopted, and a good number of Guthrie City lots changed hands. The first sale was made by a man named Rummels of Malvan, Kan., who sold a 25-foot front lot near the land office for $5 a foot to an old doctor, a resident of one of the Indian reservations adjoining Oklahoma. The purchaser refused $50 a foot for the lot five minutes later.

GUTHRIE BECOMES A CITY. cate here drove stakes outside the town line. This is preparatory to the purchase of homesteaders' rights and the extension of the city limits. No one who has ever seen a western town take forms and shape can comprehend how quickly a full-rigged city with a double-decked boom can be put in running motion. Guthrie aiready has its Main street, its Harrison street, its Guthrie avenue and its Oklahoma avenue, and this morning it was a wilderness, where the antelope and the jack-rabbit flapped its ears in the sun. occurred. The election notice appeared today in the Oklahoma Herald, the daily paper published at Guthrie, on the first day of its existence. The Council will be elected at the same time. Nearly 10,000 votes were polled, as there are about that many men in Guthrie with intention of becoming citizens. The leading candidates for Mayor were Adjt-Gen. How Town Lots were cornered.

A scheme, which resulted in the practical cornering of town lots today originated, as has been frequently indicated in this correspondence, with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fê Raliway, probably in combination with a syndicate whose members have been hard at work in Arkansas City for a week or more past. Numbers of them have been going into the Territory as deputy marshals, and others under permits as railroad employes. The marshals were simply commissioned and not sworn, and the railroad men were not burdened with official orders. They all did their work today and did it well. The officials in the Guthrie land-office say that men seemed to spring out of the earth as noon approached, and that it did not take is minutes to occupy half the townsite. The land officials have not been greatly rushed today, as the great majority of homesteaders are making title by actual occupation, and it will be perfected at a later date.

A MUSHROOM TOWN.

GUTHRIE A METROPOLIS IN A FEW HOURS.

Fifteen Thousand Settlers Suddenly Camp on Its Uplands-Scenes at the Land Office-Bustness on a Room.

By Telegraph to The Times.

ARKANSAS CITY (Kan.), April 22.—[By the Associated Press.] Fifteen thousand homeseekers are camped on the grassy uplands of Guthrie, the pioneer city of Oklahoma. Their campites gleam in the darkness, and their tents loom athwart the sky like an army in bivouac. Guthrie, heretofore an insignificant station in a wild and uninhabited country, remote from civilization, has a population of more than 15,000. All this was gained in an afternoon. In no country save America, and no part of that country save the great West could such a thing be possible.

When the first train arrived at Guthrie

When the first train arrived at Guthrie from Arkansas City, the embryo streets and lots of the new city had aiready been laid out by enterprising citizens who had been early on the scene. Hardly had the cars slowed down at the station when eager men leaped from the car windows, slipped from the roofs of the coaches, and poured out of the doors in streams. In a minute the slope leading up from the station was BLACK WITH MEN rushing headlong, eager for the coveted town lots. In two minutes not one of the men who had filled the train was left within men who had filled the train was left within speaking distance of the tailway. By the time this crowd had reached the top of the slope near the land office, the men who had been running parallel lines for streets and driving in stakes for town lots were well on their way along the level strip of land east of the land office. A crowd of them caught the moving line of streets and lots and rushed eastward at a tremendous rate. The men who brought along a muslin sign, bearing the words "Bank of Guthrie," were compelled to take up a lot one mile back of the station.

The next train arriving from Arkansas City brought thousands of homeseekers, about ten minutes lates. The men in this train hurried across the prairie like an army charging the wing of the enemy. They spread out north and south, and with axes and spades and stakes began with wonderful energy the location of town lots and streets.

STILL POURING IN. The fourth, fifth and sixth trains from Arkansas City swelled the number to as Arkansas City swelled the number to as many thousand more. When the severeth and eighth train came in, later in the afternoon, the crowd had overflowed all bounds. On the east, streets and town lots had been extended fully two miles; on the borth, a mile and a haif, and on the south nearly a mile. No attempt had been made to lay out the town on the west side of the track. This land had been all filed on for homesteads almost with the first rush of the home-seekers from the cars.

The home-seekers who started across the Oklahoma north line at noon in wagons and on horseback then began to pour into the new city. Their horses were reeking from heat and farlous driving. They took possession of such town lots in the future Oklahoma metropolis as they could lay elaim to. Meanwhile the land office was besieged by an eager and determined crowd of men, waiting to file claims upon homesteads. As the afternoon wore on, this drowd grew larger, until at the closing time it reached in regular line far down the street to the railroad station.

LAND OFFICE BUSINESS.

Business in the land office went rather slowly. The register and receiver did the feest they could, but the pressure upon them was tremendous. Men who were waiting to file claims were forced into line two abreast. Dealers in real estate began business before 2 o'clock in the afternoon. One enterprising dealer had as a background for the safe transaction of business a stock of rifles which had been placed there by Government troops on duty at the land office. Near by was the tent of United States Marshal, Needles. The tent was surmounted by a large American flag.

strung for miles up and down, they rushed in as though it was the only land in the United States unoccupied.

They move on quickly, every one seeming confident that he would get the special one hundred and sixty acres that he desired. Some are scattering toward claims, but most of them are moving rapidly toward the land offices. The high water of the Cimarron has subsided and no further trouble is anticipated.

Kansas Crry, April 22.—The Times' special, via Ft. Reno, says the Kingfisher land office was not opened today as the buildings and other preparations for business were not completed.

CHICAGO, April 22.
Adjutant-General U.S.A., Washington Adjutant-General U.S.A., Washington:
The Assistant Adjutant-General of the Department of the Missouri telegraphs under date of yesterday that he is just in receipt of a full dispatch from Gen. He reports much confusion on the line of raliroad, but has established a line of couriers between Oklahoma Station and Ft. choice sites first. There is as much, if not more, struggling for townsites as for sections. It is said three or-four town companies are going for Guthrie, half that number for Oklahoma City, about twenty for Kingfisher, while there are applicants for sites on almost every section. The trouble between townsite companies promises to be as dangerous as that among claim hunters. Bold schemes have been connocted. It is evident there is no room in Oklahoma. Capitalists of San Francisco sent an agent, George W. Perkins, to sind a site for a town they will build and call 'Frisco. Perkins and party stood upon the rear platform after leaving Purceil. Just after the Canadian River was crossed they leaped off and concealed themselves in the busine. The chances are that the section of 'Frien' will be near this bridge. Troops are bein as rapidly as possible sent into the country. There are in its borders 14 companies of infantry and 20 troops of cavairy.

Last night there arrived at Okiahoma City seven men bearing deputy , marshals' papers emittling them to enter the country. One man, agred 20, wore a fine broadcloth suit and carried a gold-headed cane. There is not one in the party who ever made an arrest. It is stated that the aggregate capital of the crowd is over $2,000,000. The evident intention is to select a townsite. It is thought there are over thirts when. evident intention is to select a townsite. LEAVING ARKANSAS CITY.

ARKANSAS CITY, April 22.—The crowd at the depot is larger than expected. Four trains with 10 coaches each stood ready for the start. Crowds of people walked up and down on the tops of the cars. The moment the doors were thrown open the cars were filled. It is estimated 5000 were at the depot awaiting transportation before the train started. Many women are among the Guthrie boomers.

Another call has been wired for every passenger car of the Santa Fé not m use. An extra will be made up of cattle cars. It will be night before the last train reaches Guthrie. The number going from all towns of Southern Kansas is far greater than anticipated. Many hundreds go down merely to see the scramble, with no idea of remaining. It is believed the stage line at Pond Creek, on the Rock Island, will be totally unable to accommodate the crowds.

Wichita, (Kan.), April 2.—[By the Associated Press.] The Daily Eagle's special, dated Pond Creek, via Caldwell, Kan., says: At exactly noon the gates to the promised land were thrown open to about 15,000 people on the old Caldwell and Ft. Reno trail.

It was one of the most exciting events ever witnessed in the West. The people minutes Purcell had resumed its normal aspect.

About 5 e'clock reports from the front began to come in and they give a fair indication of the state of affairs which today's grand rush precipitated. Business men of Purcell were largely reports among the horsemen who led the procession. Two of these headed for a claim which one had long since staked out and which the other coveted. The covetous man won by a few yards and set his stakes. The other declared he would hold the claim and began to work on, a dugout. The dispute was not settled, however, and tonight both men claim the homestead.

The spirit of the law has clearly been estited, nowever, and wanger claim the homestead.

The spirit of the law has clearly been violated by the Purcell merchants who have preëmpted claims today. They do not intend to live upon them and most of them will make no improvement at present beyond building shantles or tents or making dugouts. In the meantime home-seekers will roam through Oklahoma and perhaps lose their lives in contesting claims with other needy men.

It is reported that two men have been killed eight miles from Purcell.

The resignation of Durham grew out of his refusal to allow the bill of John I. Davenport of New York for $3000 for "extraordinary expenses" as election commissioner during the Presidential election. This caused an open rupture with the Attorney-General. These accounts were then taken out of his hands.

Secretary Windom said this afternoon that he accepted Durham's resignation in the ordinary course of business, not because of any faults of the latter's official conduct, but because of the several newspaper articles reflecting upon the Administration, which are said to have been inspired by the First Comptroller. These attributed sentiments to the First Comptroller which, if true, must have made it unpleasant for him to continue in office under existing circumstances.

Surveyor Fogarty, when he overhauled Surveyor Fogarty, when he overhauled the last lot of contraband opium in Ahlf's tannery in Butchertown a few weeks ago, had reason to believe, from information obtained, that the lot was but a portion of a large quantity in China which the smugglers proposed to smuggle into this port. Incoming steamers, since the Arabic arrived, have therefore been carefully watched. This morning Fogarty quietly boarded the Oceanic and commenced a diligent search for opium. Several hours were coasumed without any of the drug being found, but his efforts were finally rewarded by the finding of $5376 worth of the drug.

In searching that part of the forecastle assigned to Chinese steerage passengers, his suspicions were aroused. The deputy was soon at work, with a gimlet upon the boards of a partition in the forecastle, and as the gimlet passed through the wood it encountered something which resisted its further course. Carpenters were st once put to work tearing down the wall, which revealed 32 packages, containing 24 tins of the best opium. Each package was carefully done up in oilskin and tied with rope, apparently for the purpose of letting them down from the side of the ship into the water, where they would be left concealed until the arrival of the smugglers' boats.

Drowned at San Diego Drowned at San Diego.

San Diego, April 22.—Yesterday morning Albert Sizer, accompanied by three others, were capsized outside the heads while fishing. All managed to hold on to the boat except Sizer, who was drowned. His body was recovered, however, and the party drifted about for 13 hours, when they were picked up by a fishing vessel. The boat was overloaded. Sizer's body was thrown overboard and parties are now looking for it.

An Actress's Inventions.

[London Letter to Ph ladelphia Telegraph.]

The present of the season is the Kendal fan, designed by no less a person than our popular actress, who has proved herself possessed, not only of histrionic, but also of inventive genius. Her candle-stade, which she patented not long ago, was quite the rage for a time, but her latest invention has all the advantages of the old-fashioned reticule without its inconvenience. To the uninitiated this treasure appears as a handsome black lace fan, but when examined by one who knows the "secret springs," the usefulness of the parasol containing fan and watch sinks into significance, for concealed in Mrs. Kendal's new patent are seissors, mirrors, hairpins, powder-puff, pencil-case, pins, glove-buttoner and tiny watch. How our grandmothers would have started at the thought of being provided with all these necessaries of a toilet table in the person of an innocent-looking and, to all appearances, simple black tan.

The Alaskan Alps.
(April Scribner.)

Though by no means the highest mountain in the world by actual measurement, yet Mt. St. Elias probably appears as large, if not larger, than any other, for it is plainly visible from the sea throughout its entire height of eighteen or nineteen thousand feet, though situated from forty to fifty miles inland. The Swiss mountains, which are all under sixteen thousand feet, are generally seen from elevations varying from four to eight thousand feet, while in the Himalayas the plane of observation is considerably higher. It is certainly true that, with the possible exception of Mt. Wrangel, about which little is known, Mt. St. Elias presents the greatest snow climb of all the mountains in the world, on account of the low point to which the line of perpetual snow descends in these northerly regions. Beside St. Elias, such mountains as Cook and Vancouver sink into insignificance.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

The National Boulevard. Los ANGELES, April 13.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The National boulevard, which has received so gen erous a support from the public ited men of Los Angeles and Santa Monica is approaching completion at the westerly end.

Grading has been completed from Santa Monica to The Palms, a distance of over five miles. The graders are now at work between The Palms and Ballona Station.

All the property average along the

are now at work between The Palms and Ballona Station.

All the property-owners along the line have proved themserves publics spirited and given liberally, with one or two exceptions. There is only one piece of property between Santa Monica and Los Angeles that has not the right of way granted over the entire length for the boulevard. This is a 100-acre piece between The Palms and Ballona Station. In crossing this piece the amount of land taken would be about three acres. The boulevard runs through it so as not to cut it to disadvantage, and as at present there is no public road to it, the boule rard will greatly add to its value. When appealed to in behalf of public enterprise, and as the only map demanding pay for right of way (with exceptions of damages and costs of moving a dwelling house in one place), and when, rather than incur the delay of condemnation suits, $800 was offered the owner. John Wolfskill, demanded $2000 for his little three acres of unimproved landworth not over $100 per acre—saying. "It won't benefit any one but Los Angeles, and I don't want it there no how."

geles, and I don't want it there no how."

It is to be hoped that Mr. Wolfskill will reconsider the matter, and not place himself in the way of what is one of the most attractive public improvement that has been undertaken in Southern California. The Board of Supervisors have ordered the District Attorney to enter suit to condemn the right of way through it, but even much better it would appear for Mr. Wolfskill with his ample fortune to help rather than retard a public enterprise of this kind.

The grading will be followed by rolling with a 10-ton roller and when both grading and rolling are completed it is proposed to solicit the further influence of the Mayor, Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade to call a public meeting to appoint committees as may be thought best to raise sufficient funds to sprinkle the boulevard its entire length and to have it kept in thorough repair. The present Board of Supernexed to another county (good dodge on Pomona!). Now were these press dispatches given to the public for ef-fect?

In other words, if it was whitewash, it was certainly daubed on so thick that the hand-writing showed plainly on the wall. These commissioners owe to the Legislature that authorized their appointments honesty of pur-pose.

If they are now being condemned wrongfully let them show their hand and give to an over-anxious people the and give to an over-anxious people the facts by having all the propositions published. If there is nothing to cover up, they should not hesitate to give the public an opportunity to do them justice, and correct the impression that at present appears greatly to their disadvantage. An open expression is "good for the soul." Will the commissioners recognize this fact?

PASADENA, April 22.-[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] It is estimated that no less than 8000 people attended the religious services at the various anctuaries yesterday.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH large masses of lovely flowers orna-mented the pulpit and platform. Dr. Kennard preached both morning and kennard preached both morning and evening on the "Great Salvation," calling attention, in the evening particularly, to the danger of neglect. It was considered the most profitable day since the revival commenced. Photographs of the interior of the church were taken this morning by Mr. Jarvis.

ALL SAINTS.
The elegant new Episcopal Church was the scene of special services during the day, each of which was largely the day, each of which was largely attended. The floral pieces and decorations were numerous and beautiful. Over eight hundred calla lilies and a very large number of roses were brought into requisition. A special collection was taken, resulting in securing $33708.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN. The handsome Presbyterian Church was not elaborately decorated, but the simple display of great masses of snow white calls with their golden centers, was very effective. The musical programme, under the direction of J. C. Dunster, was finely executed. The grand organ aever filled the house of God with sweeter harmony.

THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH was also very prettily decorated with flowers of many kinds, donated by the ladies of the church. The sermons by the pastor, Rev. D. D. Hill. were remarkable for their power and scholarly study. The music was particularly fine. It always is at this church, but it was bet-ter than usual on this joyful occasion.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, also celebrated Easter in a becoming manner. Such floral decorations as there were, were very pretty and were arranged in excellent taste. The pastor, Rev. W. Bayard Craig, preached his last sermon in the church before leaving for his home in Denver.

THE TABERNACLE. The M. E. Tabernacle was the most elaborately decorated of all the sancelaborately decorated of all the sanctuaries. On entering the house, one was at once struck with the loveliness of the floral display, while the air was laden with their sweet perfume. Immediately back of the pulpit and choir alcove was a magnificent cross some 12 feet in height, while on either side were the fitting emblems, "Palms of Victory," and "Crowns of Glory." A lovely anchor (hope) and cross of roses were placed on either side of the pulpit, which was decorated with ivy and vases of flowers. ases of flowers.

"THE GATE AJAR." The largest and most magnificent piece of floral art in the city was the emblematical arrangement at the table of the city and the city are also ar emblematical arrangement at the taberancle—"The Gate Ajar." Just back of the altar railing was arranged a semi-circular inclosure representing a fence. A little to one side of the center was a gate partly open. It was a beautiful thing, not only in itself, but the idea was so beautifully presented. A very large number of callas and roses, beside pepper tree boughs and vines, had been called into requisition to make it. It was a beautiful piece, truly, and commanded the admiration of all who saw it. The evening services were devoted entirely to the Sundayschool children, and the exercises, consisting of recitations, songs and responsive readings, were very enjoyable. About 1100 people were in attendance at this service. Miss Lilius Peck sang several pretty solos, and the music generally was good.

This is not an apology, an explanation of what was closely approximating a pitched battle. The little difficulty occurred in this wise: A young man named Harry Townsend, sadly in need of salvation, but whose show for it is slim, attended the services of the army on South Fair Oaks. It is customary to stand during the first song, but Harry didn't stand. The Captain of the army, a stout armed disciple, took cognizance of this slight on the part of the Gentile and went for him. Harry was requested to stand and refused. He was then cordially requested to leave the house but refused to go, and gave what is called "back talk" to the servant of the Lord. The latter, taking exception to this, "back talk" to the servant of the Lord. The latter, taking exception to this, grasped Harry by the nape of the neck and was about to oust him regular army fashion, but Harry hit the Captain on the nose and thus ended the fighting as far as the army was concerned. Officer Robbins conducted Harry to a place of safety in the city bastile and he will have a hearing before Justice Van Doren.

G. G. Green—Dear Sir: I am frequently troubled with severe coids, and the only remedy that will relieve me of them is your Boschee's German Syrup. I have used it for more than twelve years. It is a constant household companion with me. Our merchant here procured it first at my solicitation, and says he has sold a great many bottles. It is a very popular remedy in this section. Every person who has used it speaks in the highest terms of its merits. I do not know of a single case it has not cured. I first used it in Vermont, where I lived before coming here. I advise every one to use it, as it is certainly the best cough medicine I have ever known. I have tried nearly all of them at different times. Yours respectfully. Moses Gray.

A STORY OF DISHONOR

ILLUSTRATING THE PICKLE-NESS OF A BAD WOMAN.

Howa Wife Deserted Her Husband to Take Up with a and How She Afterwards turned Evil for Good.

A queer story, showing to what depths a woman will fall while under the influence of that infatuation or blind passion which sometimes takes olind passion which sometimes takes ossession of them, was told to a possession of them, was told to a Times reporter yesterday. The woman in this case was maried, and came out to Los Angeles, with her husband, about four years ago, from Indiana. She was young and fairly good looking, and appeared at that time to be devoted to her husband. The couple secured lodgings, and for a time everything went along very nicely and smoothly. In fact, they were held up as a model of domestic happiness, and were the envy of their neighbors. A few months after their arrival the husband was offered a position at Pasadena, or some other small place in this vicinity, and as the pay was greatly increased, and there were also advantages in it, he took it. He left his wife in the city and would come in every Saturday night and stay over Sunday. This arrangement kept up for some weeks, then he began to notice a change in his wife. She did not appear to be as glad to see him as she formerly had been, and was, if anything, rather impatient for Monday to come, so that hubby would have to get back to his suburban job. Then the woman began to make the acquaintance of other men, and it was not long before her name began to be coupled with that of an elderly saloon man, who was also married, but who has quite a local reputation as a gay Lothario. The husband, as is usual in such cases, was the last to hear of his wife's indiscretions, but when he did find out how matters stood there was a big row, which culminated in the wayward wife packing up her effects, and, leaving the house, going to the apartments provided for her by the saloon man, where she came out openly as his mistress.

The deserted husband was disconsolate for a time, and seriously contemplated leaving the city to escape the disgrace which had been brought upon him.

About the time he was ready to leave, however, a very estimable ladv TIMES reporter yesterday.

disgrace which had been brought upon him.

About the time he was ready to leave, however, a very estimable lady whom he had known back East came out to the coast. She sympathized with the husband, and before the two fully realized the situation, they discovered that they were very deeply in love with each other. The husband therefore concluded to remain in the city, and he at once instituted proceedings for divorce against the faithless wife. In due course of time the case came to trial, there was no defense, and a divorce was granted, which was followed, after a proper time had elapsed, by the marriage of the ex-husband and his sympathizing friend.

In the meantime the former wife was living with the saloon-keeper, and was apparently happy and contexted. This sort of thing continued for some months, when the woman took sick, and after a few weeks, the man, with characteristic brutality, threw her into the streets. Her condition was really pitiable. She had no money and no friends, and in her distress she called on her former husband for assistance. The man was not particular well off, but he responded liberally. She was not, of course, taken to his home, but a comfortable place was secured for her, she was supplied with money for her actual necessities, and a physician was secured.

The saloon man absolutely refused necessities, and a physician was secured.

The saloon man absolutely refused to give the woman a nickel, but just as soon as she got well she at once went back to him and was again taken under his protection, although she had dishonored that she would leave the city and go back to her nearly dishonored that she would leave the city and go back to her people.

As soon as she got money enough together, however, she did take a trip back East, and went by her old home at Aurora, Ill., where she gave her husband a terrible name, saying that she had been compelled by his cruel treatment to leave him, and accusing him of every crime in the calendar. The woman returned to the city a short time ago, and at once took up her quarters in rooms over the saloon of her paramour, where she can be seen almost any day.

Just what the saloon-keeper's wife thinks of the whole arrangement is not known, but as it is not the first time that she has been treated in this man-ner, it is more than probable that she is used to it, and takes it as a matter of course.

All discuses of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved medical inhalations and the Compound Oxygen treatment, which has such a world-wide reputation in lung and nervous affections.

We take pleasure in announcing to the public that we combine the Compound Oxygen Treatment with our system of practice in the egre of asthma bronchitis, consumption, dyspepsia, insomnia, sore throat, catarrh, rheumanism and nervous prostration.

The testimonials given below are very fair samples as to the time required for effecting curse in these troublesome cases:

LOS ANGELES, CAL, Nov 14, 1888.

This is to certify that I had been afflicted with asthma and emphysims of the lungs for about 24 years. My disease was contracted in the army, I had tried almost every known remedy, both here and in the East, but nothing ever gave me permanent re lef until I tried Dr. William's Compound Oxygen and other remedies. It is only about one month since I began the treatment, and already I feel like another mas. I was so bad that for days I could hardly breathe, bit I do positively feel that I am oured. The difficulty of breathing has been entirely removed, and I feel as well as I ever did in every respect.

It is a source of gratification to me to be able to testify to the very sat-stanctory ource of gratification to me to be able to testify to the very sat-stanctory ource Dr. M. Hitton Williams has effected in my case with his Compound Oxygen and other inhalations. After suffering several years with catarrh of the head and throat also bronchitis, which caused a very aggravating cough, i applied to Dr. Williams, who effected an entire cure in just two mouths from the time I began the treatment. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams as a Christian gentleman and a conscientious and skillful physician, whose cures seem almost marrelous in cases of consumption, asthma bronchitis and catarrh.

MRS. L. A. THURSTON, 1422 Temple st., Los Angeles, Cal.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lurgs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.
